ABOUT NOVALNET AG

Introduction

Virtual IBAN is a virtual bank account reference number provided by a bank or a payment provider to send and receive payments within Europe. The IBAN is used for cross-border transactions made within the SEPA regions of Europe. A virtual IBAN works similarly to a regular IBAN where soon after the payment is complete, the funds will reach a physical bank account associated with the virtual IBAN.

This whitepaper describes how Novalnet benefits businesses with Virtual IBAN.

Novalnet's Virtual IBAN for your business?

The use of virtual IBANs at Novalnet provides a multi-currency flexibility for making B2B and B2C payments with the following advantages:

- Simple and Customizable
- Lower Administrative Cost
- Easy Account Management

Simple and Customizable

Virtual IBAN simplifies the implementation of virtual IBAN accounts with enhanced control and increased efficiency. Cross-border transactions are simplified using a unique account number for the participating countries. The account number format is country recognizable while transmitted online. Novalnet allows you to assign multiple IBANs for each order or a single IBAN for multiple transactions from the same customer.

Lower Administrative Cost

Novalnet reduces the complexity of reconciling payments with virtual IBANs. This reduces the administrative costs furthermore. Novalnet allows your business to accept payments in the payer's local currency by receiving them in a local bank account. Novalnet also helps with the segregation of accounts without the need for reference information.

Easy Account Management

Novalnet's automated accounting system is flexible and extensible, where files in multiple formats can be shared with any accounting system integrated into your business.
